Dear families,

Thank you for your support during our recent Ofsted inspection.

Our report has been finalised and we are proud to announce that we remain a GOOD school.

A copy of the report should be attached to this newsletter, and if not, it can be found on the school website. We are very proud of the report and the recognition of the improvements we have made. Here are just some of the comments from the report:

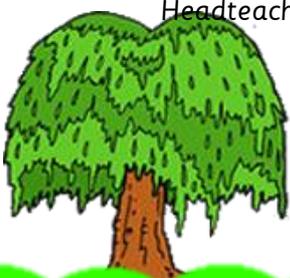

- * The school's core vision is for staff, pupils and families to work together and 'Always inspire, challenge and learn'. This underpins all that the school does.
- * A strong safeguarding culture is at the heart of the school.
- * The great majority of parents spoke very positively about the school.
- * Staff plan activities to engage and inspire pupils across all national curriculum subjects.
- * Positive attitudes to learning that are evident across the school.
- * Subject leaders relish the opportunity, not just to raise pupils' achievement but also to inspire a love of learning in their subjects.
- * Subject leaders are successful in creating an exciting and challenging curriculum for pupils.
- * Leaders have developed a curriculum that motivates pupils and challenges pupil's learning.
- * Pupils are developing a greater depth of understanding in maths, more pupils, particularly those who do not find mathematics easy, are mastering basic mathematical skills and developing a greater depth of understanding.
- * At the end of Year 6, the proportion of pupils who reached greater depth in writing was above the national average.
- * Leaders have maintained a good quality of education in the school.

All of us are extremely proud of these statements and the rest of the report, but as you know, we are on the journey to ensure the provision for your children is nothing less than excellent. We have already begun acting on the 'Next Steps' in our determination to be the best we can be.

Kind regards,

Mrs Kelly Vaughan
